

Aussie Shares

The Aussie share market has had a stellar few years – it's been a very pleasant ride indeed.

But over the last month or so it's been far more bumpy. In fact, we saw quite a decent dip in October.

But we've got to be careful about these dips, because history shows they are absolutely inevitable.

Take the global financial crisis: only a few years ago share prices fell by nearly fifty percent from peak and then very quickly recovered.

The real trick if you, like me, own quality shares is expect downturns to come along. My advice to you is during a downturn hang on to your shares.

Don't forget, with decent shares you'll still be getting your dividends – that's the income from shares that you probably live on.

The real issue with shares: they're going to rise; at times they're going to fall. Hang in there.
