Version: 3.0

Date prepared: 15 July 2017

It is important that you read this Financial Services and Credit Guide. It contains information that will help you decide whether to use any of the financial services offered by us, as described in this Guide, including:

- who we are and how we can be contacted
- the advice and services we provide
- information about us
- our fees and how we are paid in connection with those services
- how we manage your private information
- how you can complain about a matter relating to us

documents you may receive

We will provide you with a number of documents as you progress through our financial planning process to capture each stage of your advice journey. We will provide these documents to you electronically to your nominated email address, unless otherwise agreed.

When we provide personal advice it will normally be documented and provided to you in a Statement of Advice (SoA), known as a financial plan. The financial plan contains a summary of your goals and the strategies and any financial products we may recommend to achieve your goals. It also provides you with detailed information about product costs and the fees and other benefits we and others will receive as a result of the advice we have provided.

If we provide further personal advice a financial plan may not be required. We will keep a record of any further personal advice we provide you for seven years. You may request a copy of such records by contacting our office during that period.

If we recommend or arrange a financial product for you we will provide a product disclosure statement (PDS) or investor directed portfolio service (IDPS) guide where relevant. These documents contain the key features of the recommended product, such as its benefits and risks as well as the costs you will pay the product provider to professionally manage that product.

You should read any warnings contained in your advice document, the PDS or IDPS guide carefully before making any decision relating to a financial strategy or product.
